Van Ness Feldman LLP

vnf.com

CONTACT

cmeisenbach@vnf.com

202.298.1828

PRACTICES

Air

EDUCATION

The George Washington University Law School

North Carolina State University

BAR AND COURT ADMISSIONS

District of Columbia Bar

CAITLIN K. MEISENBACH

SENIOR COUNSEL

Professional Background

Caitlin brings nearly 20 years' experience at the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to the firm's Environmental practice where she represents automobile and vehicle manufacturers in matters before federal and state agencies. Her extensive background with the Clean Air Act (CAA) includes negotiating the largest CAA civil penalty in the agency's history; managing vehicle and engine imports enforcement under CAA Title II; and overseeing innovative environmental mitigation projects. Caitlin's experience with, and understanding of, the federal regulatory process provides valuable insight and strengthens the firm's ability to provide clients with impactful counsel as they navigate high-impact, complex environmental matters and policy challenges.

Government Service

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, 2008-2025

Alerts

- A New Road Ahead: NHTSA Eases Fuel Economy Standards and Reshapes Compliance Options, 09/30/2026
- California Will Establish Conditional Approval Path for Aftermarket Parts, 09/18/2026
- California Adopts Replacement Tire Efficiency Rules, 08/20/2026
- EPA Proposes to Revise Biden-era Heavy Duty Truck Rules, Continuing EPA Pattern of Deemphasizing In-Use Emission Compliance, 07/23/2026
- A Deeper Dive on Potential Nuisance Suit Risks After EPA's Rescission of the Endangerment Finding, 02/24/2026
- EPA Rescinds 2009 Endangerment Finding and Repeals Vehicle GHG Standards, 02/18/2026
- Important Legal and Policy Developments Continue to Reshape Compliance for Motor Vehicle Manufacturers and Fleet Owners and Operators in the U.S., 02/04/2026
- Regulatory Whiplash for Heavy-Duty Vehicle and Engine Manufacturers: Congressional Review Act Rescinds CARB Waivers, Prompting Wave of Litigation and Uncertainty, 08/27/2025